Connecting Education and Careers

Hello business and marketing professionals,

It's the time of year when days get shorter and temps get cooler, which means that CareerTech VISION is just around the corner! We are so excited to be back face-to-face with our members along with offering a hybrid option as well. There are so many great sessions available for both formats.

During our Business Division Opening Session, we will have Gregory Keele who is a CTE teacher and founder of Virtual Startup Academy, share how he has moved entrepreneurship online along with his innovative ways of teaching. I'm excited to have Greg join us in New Orleans.

Be on the look out for some more information about what the Business Division has planned for VISION.
