

CTE in New Hampshire

31% of New Hampshire jobs will require education beyond high school but less than a bachelor's degree by 2031. Career and technical education (CTE) programs prepare students for these jobs in key New Hampshire industries such as:

- outdoor recreation
- construction
- healthcare
- advanced manufacturing

In 2023, 66% of New Hampshire high school CTE concentrators graduated having participated in work-based learning.

Many students are already enrolled in CTE in New Hampshire, developing technical, academic and employability skills and engaging in work-based experiences with industry partners. During the 2022-23 school year, New Hampshire had:

9,985

secondary CTE participants

6,929

postsecondary CTE participants

These youth and adult learners in CTE programs are more engaged, graduate high school at higher rates, earn industry-recognized credentials, and have rewarding and family-sustaining careers.

Four-year cohort graduation rate in New Hampshire (2021-22)

5,800

sub-baccalaureate credentials in CTE fields awarded to New Hampshire students (2022-23)
